

Here and There

Dallas the horse show.

Defiance Starch in 16-oz packages 10c at Stratton's.

Mrs. W. I. Sturdevant of Arcadia, Kansas, is in Jasper visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Embree.

Got ladies, misses, mens, boys, and childrens, underwear, where you get better values. The New York Racket.

Just received a nice, new line of trunks and suit cases.

Joyce and Lee

Mrs. Floyd Brown of Lamar, is visiting her aunt Mrs. J. D. Harbur.

We now have plenty of both lump and nut coal at the lowest prices.

Dickason Goodman Lh. Co.

More notions, better notions for less money always at the New York Racket.

Miss Ella Ryan who has been in this city for the past two weeks visiting relatives left Monday night for her home in St. Louis.

You have probably tried everything else. Dr. Cohens Catarrh Salve will be on the market for a limited time. Samples supplied by Joe Isaacs, Special Agent, Carthage, Mo.

Mr. C. E. Campbell has moved into his new quarters and is busy this week straightening up his store.

If you are looking for the best coal in the city we have it, all under cover and dry. Dickason Goodman Lh. Co.

When you want a good pair of shoes that will wear go to J. F. Bright's store.

N. A. Mackey and Ad Joyce went up to Lamar Tuesday night to see how the election went up there.

Crandall Bros. will always pay the top of the market for Beef Hides.

If your horse has any defect in his gait or action see Allen at Dallas' shop.

Tom Seal was in Lamar Wednesday on business.

When you want your saws sharpened don't fail to see Joe Wells.

We are again well supplied with coal having just received a new car. H. L. Tallman, at the Jasper Elevator. 28th.

Mrs. S. P. Watson went to Liberal Saturday to be with her daughter who is quite sick.

The prettiest line of glassware in town and the price is less at The New York Racket.

For the best blacksmith work go to Dallas at the west shop.

W. H. Hillie who lives five miles southwest of here came in Monday morning and went down to Carthage.

Ladies wool vests and pants, the nicest kind at prices that will surprise you The New York Racket.

Dr. Cohens Catarrh Salve sent on receipt of 50c for 2 oz. jar. Joe Isaacs Special Agent, Carthage, Mo.

Mr. R. R. Larriek was in Larussell Monday.

We are headquarters for copper tea kettles, wash boilers, coffee and a pots, and the price makers. New York Racket.

St. John Astley cigars now 5c. at J. S. Dafferts.

The Taka Embroidery Club met with Mrs. S. last yesterday afternoon.

Butterflies Give Designs for Gowns.

It is the butterflies that certain dressmakers owe their inspirations for frocks. The flutter of the garden is unsurpassed for variety and delicacy of color. A French dress maker of feminine garb was the first who went to the winged creature for suggestions. He did so with a instance of an artist friend who said that of all the harmonious designs in nature those of the butterfly were the finest. So the dress maker has been sending orders to a Boston naturalist who gets choice specimens from tropical lands. Only last week twenty-five butterflies were sent across the sea to serve as suggestions for gowns. New York Press.

Big Cut Prices

50 hoodies and fascinators worth 50 cents and $1.00 each, which we will sell for 25 cents each. Hurry up.

J. D. Hamner.

PARIS HAS BALLOON FAD.

New "Sport" a Favorite in the French Capital.

"It is impossible, on a fine day, to look up into the sky above Paris without seeing two or three balloons, like red or green moons, aloft against the blue."

The speaker, a member of the Aero club, resumed:

"On a September Sunday, standing by the Arc de Triomphe, I counted nine balloons aloft above my head. They were beautiful in color—scarlet, blue, gold, green, white—and nobody watched them, for they were an ordinary spectacle, like a horse or a peddler.

"The balloons, keeping together, floated past the Eiffel Tower. Then a gust of wind seized them, and they rushed with incredible rapidity towards Montmartre. You could see them dropping sand. It looked like a rope made of cloud, a rope that quickly melted against the blue sky.

"Ladies run balloons in Paris. Children go up in them. But for the expense, I believe that every Parisian would take a Sunday balloon ride."

THE DEMAND OF LABOR.

Request That Seemed at First to Savor of Extortion.

It was formerly the custom of a paper mill in Massachusetts to pay the workers semi-monthly; and, the operatives having found the practice somewhat inconvenient from their standpoint, it was decided to send a delegate to the head of the firm to state their grievance. An Irishman, rather well known for his sagacity and persuasive powers, was selected for the task. He duly waited on the "boss," who said: "Well, Michael, what can I do for you?"

"If ye please, sor," said Mike, "I've been sint as a diligate by the workers to ask a favor of ye regardin' the payment of our wages."

"What do they want?"

"Sor, it is the desire of meself an' of every other man in the establishment that we resayve our semi-monthly pay every week."—Lippincott's.

So Unreasonable.

Two pretty girls about 16 years each were confiding to each other their views upon life in general, and upon affairs of the heart in particular. The blonde had evidently been recently receiving some maternal advice, for she remarked, with a slight pout:

"I think people are just too unreasonable."

"Of course they are," the other readily agreed. "What are you talking about?"

"Why, kissing."

"Who is unreasonable about kissing?"

"Why—er—everybody. They only begin to think it's wrong for a girl to let herself be kissed when she begins to get old enough for it to be interesting."

Love and Life.

"Love is hurt with jar and fret." These words, written by the English poet years ago, sum up the truth that love, even more than friendship, can be marred and finally lost from carelessness or cruelty.

For friendship is more equable and steady, it is a matter of once of more reserve and stability; when one loves, one gives all, and so suffers utter shipwreck if things go wrong.

Love is hurt with jar and fret, and when two people come into possession of this most precious heritage they should resolve that let come what may, ill temper, harsh words and disagreements should not occur between them.

"Heat Veil" for Firemen.

One of the gravest perils which fire fighters are constantly facing is the fierce heat. After successful trials, a newly invented "heat veil" has been introduced into practice at Cologne, Germany, where 200 men have been supplied with the appliance. The veil is made after the principle of a safety lamp, with double windows. It is composed of fibers of cane, which possess the peculiar property of retaining water for a considerable length of time. The veil is made damp before being fastened to the fireman's ordinary brass helmet.

Revival of the Bridegroom's Price.

As if the millions of evils from which the Brahmin community is suffering are not sufficient, a new evil of a very formidable and demoralizing character, in the form of a varakshana (bridegroom's price) has appeared among us. The rich and the poor who have the good fortune of having sons have been shamelessly extorting money and concessions from the parents of the brides, irrespective of the means and circumstances of the latter, taking unduly mean advantage of the Shastric injunction that girls should be married before they attain puberty.—Indian Review.

Sporting Goods.

WE ARE NOW PREPARED

To show the largest line of Sporting Goods ever shown in Jasper. Consisting of Guns, Rifles, Revolvers, and all kinds of amunition. We have guns from $3 up to $35. Carry such well known lines as L. C. Smith, Stevens, Davis, and Remington, also have the Automatic in stock. Will rent you a rifle or gun for a day's outing. Don't forget 5-A Horse goods, or Illinoy heaters, they are best and cheapest.

YOURS FOR BARGAINS.

WOLF HARDWARE COMPANY.

Cork Soles.

Nothing new under the sun. It is now an established fact that the Romans in classical times wore cork soles in their shoes to protect their feet from water, especially in winter. As high heels were not then introduced, the Roman ladies who wished to appear taller than they were fashioned by nature, put plenty of cork under them. It remains to be demonstrated that the French women of the seventeenth century were short of stature, and to their desire to appear tall must be credited the invention of high heels. Once let a stumpy little bit of femininity get to wearing French heels and feel much more than her inches, and she will never depart from them.—New York Press.

A Cruel Stab.

Miss Seren Yellowleaf angled desperately. "Would it affect you," she asked, "if I were to tell you that I was to marry your friend, Jack Stone?"

Mr. Brakes was prompt. "Deeply—painfully!" he asserted, and there was feeling in his voice.

She leaned closer, and coyly blushing, asked the question: "Why should you care?"

"Well, you see," floundered Mr. Brakes, "I think such a lot of Jack, and—"

But Miss Y— had fainted.—Cleveland Leader.

Honeysuckle for His Cows.

My uncle, a few years ago, owned quite a number of cows, which were pastured in a large field, in which were many buttercups, says a correspondent of the Boston Herald. The milk was sold to neighbors. One day a customer approached my uncle and said: "Your milk tastes of buttercups."

"Yes, I know it; so I am going to plant honeysuckle in the pasture next year," was the reply.

Contradictions Axiomatic.

"Like does not necessarily produce like."

"For instance?"

"Haven't you often noticed in campaigns a lively bolt to be followed by a deadlock?"—Baltimore American.

A New Idea.

In place of the tiny cards used to announce the little one's advent, "christening boxes" have now come into favor. They at least have the quality of novelty and are as dainty as one could wish. The boxes are about five inches square, and covered with white satin. Embroidered in the right hand corner is a bunch of forget-me-nots, and in the lower left-hand corner is the baby's monogram done in silver.

The box is filled with pink and white sugar-coated almonds, over which is a dainty lace napkin.

Extenuating Circumstances.

A man has subjected himself to serious criticism by cheating at cards in a Pittsburg club. He kept in his hand a little mirror, which reflected the cards as he dealt them, and helped him to relieve several Pittsburg millionaires of considerable sums of ready money. They found a great deal of fault with him, and it is impossible to deny that his methods were censurable.

But his motives seem to have been good and he should have credit for them. Surely it will be agreed that peaceably and quietly to detach a Pittsburg millionaire from superfluous money is a work that in itself is praiseworthy and that altruists should be leniently judged for errors of method in such life.—From Life.

Notice

We are prepared to kill and work up hogs for our neighbors this winter, and will make the price reasonable.

CRANDALL BROS.

Why He Left.

"I'm very sorry, ma'am," said the new boarder, "but I have arranged to leave at the end of the week."

"Indeed!" rejoined the landlady. "Are you going to leave the city?"

"Oh, no, replied the n. b. "I'm merely making a change on account of the water."

"Why, what is wrong with the water?" queried the landlady.

"It's impure," answered the other. "I frequently detect a slight flavor of coffee in it."—Chicago News.

BEEF HIDES

Until further notice we will pay 9 cents per pound for beef hides.

Crandall Bros., Jasper, Mo.

Dolls, dolls, all kind of dolls at Hall and Wells.

Your washwoman is one who can tell. Let her try it as to its saving and cleaning power.

The Jasper Bakery

Always has on hand a nice fresh line of BREAD, CAKES AND PIES.

If you haven't tried their goods you have missed something. Cheaper to buy than bake, any time.

We also carry a nice line of Candies, Cigars and Lunch Goods.

C. E. CAMPBELL, Prop.